ATTEMPTED MURDER

Assaulted, Robbed and Left For Dead—Will the Perpetrators Be Punished?

James Williams, an industrious and respectable young farmer residing with his parents on Hickory Ridge, Brown county, Ohio, came to this city Saturday to spend the day and have a good time, as the boys term it.

Being a stranger it is not supposed that he should know who were and who were not of the right kind in forming his acquaintances for the day. That he fell in with a lot of wolves—and there are some here ever ready to pounce upon just such lambs and fleece them of their wool—is apparent from the manner in which he was treated.

He was first of money and a liberal spender, and during the afternoon and up to a late hour the three rascals he had in tow had a picnic without costing them a cent.

It was midnight when he confided to return to the Ohio side, and when he spoke of blowing the horn for the ferrymen to carry him across to the opposite shore, the trio very promptly offered to perform that service, as they had a skiff at hand and would be only too glad to accommodate him, as he had shown them a good time.

The four men entered the skiff and started for Aberdeen. Williams says that he noted that the boat was drifting down considerably but attributed it to the current.

A landing was made just above the creek, near some willows. After getting out, he says his suspicion was aroused by their queer maneuvers, but before he thoroughly realized his danger he was struck a terrific blow, knocking him senseless.

When he revived he heard one of them say, "Let's throw him into the river;" another, after placing his hand on his breast to see if he was breathing, replied, "Never mind, he's dead as h---l."

Williams says while the fellow had his hand on his breast he lay as still as death, and never once drew a breath.

The robbers got about $35 and a gold watch. Sunday morning the man's face presented an awful appearance,—one eye was closed and his whole face was discolored. He says he knows two of the party.

Nothing should be left undone to bring the guilty ones to justice. There needs to be a cleaning out of these dangerous and disreputable characters in this city.

Mr. Eugene Straub, Secretary, and Mr. L. W. Walter, Photographer of the Louisville Auto Club, accompanied by Mr. William Pirtel and Mr. Harris, pathfinders for a 250-mile automobile tour, were in the city yesterday making arrangements for the accommodation of several hundred people who will make the trip. The party will leave Louisville October 8th, returning on the 9th. There will be over fifty machines in line, making a novel and pretty sight. They will probably spend several hours in this city.

The four men entered the skiff and started for Aberdeen. Williams says that he noted

CALL FOR COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republicans of Mason county will meet at their respective places of voting on Thursday, September 18th, 1909, at 1 o'clock p.m., to select delegates to the County Convention, which will be held at the Courthouse in Maysville on Saturday, September 19th, at which Convention candidates will be nominated for the county offices to be filled by election in November, 1909. Each precinct meeting shall be called to order by the Committeeman and be organized by the election of a Chairman and Secretary. The proceedings shall be reduced to writing, giving the names of the delegates and instructions. If there be any, and shall be signed by the Chairman and Secretary and delivered to the Secretary of the County Convention.

The ratio of representation from each Precinct shall be one vote for every fifty voters or fraction over twenty-five cast for the Taft electors at the election in November, 1908. Upon this, the vote will be as follows:

Maysville No. 1.....	1	Murphyville.....	2
Maysville No. 2.....	3	Sardis.....	2
Maysville No. 3.....	2	West Maysville.....	2

Germantown.....	1	Orangeburg.....	2

Total number of votes 8—necessary to choose 21.

The delegates may be instructed in all matters or only in part or not at all.

The County Convention shall be called to order by the Chairman of the County Committee at 2 o'clock p.m. on Saturday, September 19th, at the Courthouse in Maysville and shall proceed to organize by the election of a Chairman and Secretary. After a permanent organization shall have been effected candidates for the various offices shall be nominated in the following order:

Representative, County Judge, Sheriff, Circuit Clerk, County Clerk, County Attorney, County Superintendent, Jailor, Assessor.

At the Precinct meetings delegates shall be selected to a special convention of each Magisterial District for the purpose of nominating candidates for Justice of the Peace and Constable.

The convention will be under the supervision of the Committee representing the voting Precincts composing the Magisterial Districts and will be held immediately after the adjournment of the County Convention in the Court house.

By order of the Committee.

The lovely bride was handsome in a beautiful, but simple white gown, with lace trimmings, carrying a large bunch of white roses, making a lovely and attractive appearance ever to be remembered in the hearts of all.

The house was beautifully decorated in green and white, the decorations being ferns, palms and roses. The wedding march expressing the talent of the accomplished player, Mrs. Nannie Cracraft, was beautiful.

The groom wore the usual conventional black, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Matthews of the Mayfield Christian Church.

The dining-room, where a delicious salad course was served, was also a feature of the wedding. Only the relatives and a few intimate friends of the couple were present, the occasion being an all-day affair.

The happy couple left over the L. and N. mid showers of good wishes, for Earlington, where Mr. Maxey is Principal of the new High School.

DR. S. M. WORTHINGTON.

Samuel Madison Worthington, M. D., one of the foremost homeopaths of Central Kentucky, died Friday last at the Woodford Memorial Hospital, Versailles, where he had been critically ill for two months with tuberculosi and malignant growth in the throat. Born July 12th, 1881, at the family homestead at Fernleaf, this county, he was the eighth member of an illustrious family to bear this name. He was the son of the late Samuel Madison and Maria H. Worthington and his early education was in the rural schools.

When quite young he graduated with honors at Bethany College in Virginia, in the class of 1879, and at the University of Chicago in the Medical School in 1882.

He commenced the practice of medicine at Charleston, W. Va., where he remained two years. He then moved to Harrodsburg and finally settled at Versailles, where he enjoyed the confidence of the public as a physician.

In September, 1892, he married Miss Sallie Scott of Jessamine, who survives him, with three children—S. M., Jr., Mary Kincaid and Scott Worthington—besides two sisters—Mrs. Lunford Talbott of North Middletown and Mrs. John Taylor of Norman, Okla., and a

The Record in Maysville is a Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad hack" or any kidney ail and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Maysville citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

Mrs. Nathan A. Hafer, Maysville, Ky., says:

"My opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills is so high that I have not the least hesitation in publicly recommending them. For ten years I was bothered by headache, during which time I tried various remedies without obtaining beneficial results. There was constant, dull ache across my back, often accompanied by sharp rheumatic twinges throughout my body. I was also subject to nervous headaches and dizzy spells, and on arising in the morning felt very tired. My husband advised me to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial, and I procured a box at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore. They proved very beneficial in my case and in a short time cured me."
